

All Too Real

Don't get me wrong, I know the plan
But certain things are hard to understand Reveal these chains that you feel Fairly soon you'll begin to heal
So rethink your pink lullaby sweet dreams Cause they'll get you one of these times then you'll feel All Too Real

When you stand alone with it
You begin to see what it does then you'll look behind to see just when it was you came undone
And then you can breath,
forever.

On and on it goes Truth for blood... Let it flow

When you stand alone with it
You begin to see what it does
just when it was you came undone
And then you can breath,
forever.

Don't get me wrong...
